RE: CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANISATIONS CALL ON THE SOUTH AFRICAN GOVERNMENT TO CONDEMN THE KILLING OF HUMAN RIGHTS DEFENDER THULANI MASEKO AND INVESTIGATE THE DEATHS OF HUMAN RIGHTS DEFENDERS

1. We, the undersigned civil society organisations write to you to express deep concern regarding the continued repression and killing of human rights defenders and social justice activists in South Africa and throughout the SADC region.
2. The recent murder of human rights defender Thulani Maseko in eSwatini has sent shock waves across the world. His death is a chilling reminder that human rights defenders are not free or safe to champion the causes that seek to bring positive change in society. This also comes at a time when civil society in South Africa continues to grapple with the assassinations of social justice activists Lindokuhle Mnguni, Ayanda Ngila, and Nokuthula Mabaso only a few months prior.
3. As we mourn the death of Thulani Maseko, and many other activists who have been killed for daring to speak truth to power, we remember the incredible and brave man that he was. We honour his life and legacy and stand fully in support of the call for democracy and broader social justice reforms in eSwatini which he so fervently fought for.
4. We support the statement released by the Southern African Development Community and supported by the Chairperson of the African Union Commission. This includes the call for the transparent and comprehensive investigation into the killing as well as dialogue in the resolution of political and other challenges faced by the people of eSwatini.
5. We therefore call upon the South African government to release a statement condemning the killing of Thulani Maseko and acknowledging the widespread threats to the lives of activists across Southern Africa. We further urge the South African government to call for an independent and transparent investigation into the death of Thulani Maseko. Finally, we call upon the South African government to commit to coordinating with the relevant stakeholders a sub-regional response to the attacks and killings of human rights defenders in the SADC region.
6. We remind you that the rights guaranteed in the Constitution and international treaties of which South Africa is a signatory to such as the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights and the U.N. International Convention for Civil and Political Rights demand that measures be put in place to ensure the rights to freedom of speech, peaceful assembly and protest are promoted and protected. This includes the rights of human rights defenders who should have liberty to express their opinions whether political or otherwise, without reprisal. Rights and freedoms in SADC countries are therefore under siege if human rights defenders continue to be killed for exercising them.

Yours faithfully,
